Recovery Village Center Medical Detox Program

Recovery Village Center – Medical Detox is a 10 bed program that serves adults who need assistance with detoxification from one or more substances prior to entering a Residential program. This is a voluntary program and the focus is management of symptoms during detoxification.

The program has licensed medical professional (LMP) oversight and the individual meets with a Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner every day who assists with Medication Assisted Treatment [MAT]. Depending upon the substance, individual treatment plans are implemented, with treatment based upon symptomology and client response.

Individuals are referred through the New Directions Northwest intake process. Upon entrance to detox, an ASAM will be completed and a level 3.7 WM will be required to justify medical detox, and 3.2 WM for social detox. Individuals must have a completed ASAM by a certified drug and alcohol provider within the last 14 days if they would like to be referred for residential treatment. When an individual is deemed appropriate for medical detox level of care, they will be contacted and scheduled for admission to the Medical Detox program. Prior to admission, the client must be hemodynamically stable [laboratory results] and ready to begin their journey to recovery. Depending upon symptom management, length of stay is typically 3 to 7 days followed by a referral to a Residential Treatment Program to complete their recovery from substance abuse/usage.
